OIL PROSECUTIONS OF LITTLE AVAIL IN DOME SCANDAL

ACTUAL CONSPIRACY TO HURT GOVERNMENT HARD TO PROVE.

AIM IMPERSONAL

Republican Party, Not Coolidge, Is Target of Democratic Assaults.

Washington—Criminal prosecutions are threatened in the recent dome scandal, but will they get anywhere? That's the question the lawyers are doubtful about, no matter how highly skilled in the counsel employed by President Coolidge to try the cases. An analysis of the record shows that the contradictory statements did not constitute perjury, as some of the important statements were not sworn to when made. Nor is it clear yet that any charge of bribery would hold, for nothing has been brought out to show a connection between the money that was passed and the subsequent making of contracts. All the financial transactions will be defended on the ground that they were "loans." And strictly speaking, a loan is not a bribe, for there is always the promise to repay the money.

What then will the discussion be? The only basis for the discussion is whether or not there was a conspiracy to defraud the United States government. Under the conspiracy statutes, two or more persons—not necessarily must be found to have engaged in an effort to defraud the government. But did the loans which were made in

RETURNED SIGHT GIFT OF GOD, DECLARES WILLETTA

Willetta Huggins told her own story to the Gazette Monday afternoon.

Physically tired from the strain of the examination Sunday, Willetta arose from her bed and, after dressing, greeted the Gazette reporter in the office of Supt. J. T. Hooper. "To me, the past three years, my eyes looked no different than on other occasions. After offering congratulations, the reporter drew from Willetta, by constant questioning, her story of the sensation she experienced in recovering the use of her eyes and ears.

Saw Light Year Ago

"If I found I was able to distinguish light about a year ago and last September I was able to see enough so that I could distinguish people by the color of their clothes," the girl said.

Asked what she did when they were a new dress which she had not seen before, Willetta laughed and said she was aided by a girl, which she often used in past years when she was in the dark. "For more than a year and a half she has been a member of the Christian Science church and has followed implicitly the instructions of Miss Lillian Miller, a practitioner in Chippewa Falls, where Willetta's relatives live, and where she spends her vacations.

It was in that city that a field agent for the Wisconsin school for the blind found her in 1915. She was several years behind in her studies and was called subnormal. Today she is in the second year in high school at 18.

Found She Could Hear

Since she could not see, Willetta has been experimenting one day and found that she was able to read lips. This she practiced for a year, never able to say just when she could first hear, as she might have gathered what was said either through her drum or through lip reading, and not have been conscious of which channel it came.

"When I was home, I was under the care of Miss Lillian Miller, a practitioner, and I couldn't tell then whether I was hearing or lip reading until she made me try reading. Then I knew I could hear."

Then Willetta recounted the most strange part of her whole experience.

"The first time I saw, I saw out of my right eye, the one I was blind in almost from birth, you might say. I heard out of my right ear first—the one which was the poorest. Now I can see better than I ever could before in my life. I never able to read. Sometimes I see better than other times."

Willetta then read some titles on the front page of a pamphlet, although hesitantly. She has no trouble in reading small print, having to hold it quite close to her eyes, as though near sighted.

"Why is that, Willetta?" asked the reporter.

"Because sometimes there is more opposition than other times," declared the girl.

Held Gift of God

"That her sight is a gift of God and that the practitioner was only the means used by Him, is the girl's explanation." (Continued on Page 3)

MINISTERS FLEECE VIA LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE, CHARGE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Chicago—A national syndicate has been formed to fleece ministers by means of long distance telephone calls and well connected officials according to Dr. W. E. Barton and Dr. John Timothy Stone, pastors of large churches in Chicago.

Both ministers at a union pastors' meeting that they had been called to hospitals to interview supposed ministers and had received long distance calls from Chicago offices purporting to come from secretaries of prominent ministers asking them to give financial help to the patients.

The calls were found to be bogus, they said, when they communicated with the ministers from whom they were alleged to have come.

FALL, BROKEN DOWN CANNOT TESTIFY

Albert Bacon Fall.

Washington—A sweeping investigation of the air service was demanded in the house today by Representative Nelson, republican of Wisconsin, who declared he was informed that conditions which now exist are in a continuation of the same practice by the same parties "that wrote the blackest page in America's war history in the air craft failure."

Introducing a resolution asking for the appointment of a special committee of inquiry, he said:

"I am preferring no charges against anybody. I simply wish to end this unspeakable condition in the air service or not at rest these charges if found untrue."

Same "Black Scandal"

Mr. Nelson said that he had more than seven thousand documents which he added, "I am told will show that the same conditions exist now which existed during the black scandal in the air service during the World war and that the same men who participated in the loss of more than $500,000,000 of the people's money are still getting the contracts under the same conditions."

The air service is conducting a propaganda, he declared, "over mountains and sea, desert and valley, in order to try to force congress through an aroused public sentiment, to appropriate more money than the officials of the air service seem to feel they are entitled to receive."

He said that he was willing to appropriate upon a proper presentation to it of the needs of the service, and he asked:

"Is this the purpose of the proposed flight of the dirigible to the north pole?"

Monopoly Is Hinted

Mr. Nelson said that, in his opinion, the Manufacturers Aircraft association, Inc., and its method of operation "were in absolute violation of the Sherman anti-trust law" and that he was convinced a investigation would show "this not only as being a fact, but its being a fact today."

Women Need Swamp-Root
Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be kidney and bladder trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Williams' Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing, be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

January 29, 1924.

I take great pleasure in announcing the four-day engagement, commencing February 4th, of the celebrated movie star, Marion Davies, in "Little Old New York."

"Little Old New York" has taken the entire country by storm, wherever it has been shown and is a picture that will appeal to every class, sex and age. Every leading paper of the country praises this picture as one of the most satisfactory productions that ever was filmed. It is a gorgeous entertainment which no one will want to miss.

I am very enthusiastic and feel proud to present this picture to you and hope that you all will enjoy it as I have. I have arranged a special orchestra of 7 pieces with a special music score to fit this picture. In other words, we will present this picture to you in a very elaborate way.

I also wish to say that if possible, attend the matinees and avoid the evening crowds.

Very respectfully yours,
